Introduction to Codes

The Truth of Energy

All knowing, intelligent, all loving, everywhere present of our childhood sounds to me like Energy.

Humanity lives within a field of energy. Air is one way to understand this field. It is within this energy field that we have life. It is everywhere present, all intelligence, all knowing, all Love (I prefer to use the term GOOD as love is only one aspect of the greater expanse of GOOD, and is unlimited (we hope) having no beginning and no end.

How like our times in which black is labeled white, war is peace, toxins add value. The great life giving field of energy is coopted as a limited controlling entity called “god”. One Being who will hand out rewards on conditions of obedience and worship.

When energy is everywhere, unlimited, available to every entity in the Web of Life. And it isn't worship or obedience that causes energy to respond to humanity. It is “word”. Word in the forms of symbols, sounds, numbers, is what imprints energy with a unique frequencies. And those imprinted frequencies cause the field to respond, amplify, press, attract other vibrations until the “word” component imprinted in the unseen becomes a form in our emotional discernment, our mental discernment, and in the frequencies ranges that are discerned by our sight, sound, smell, feel, touch. We call the end result in the physical “Real”. Forgetting the very real law of manifestation we neglect to ask, “What beyond physical result is the “word” cause. And so we have trained ourselves to assign the cause to “god” and wonder why worship and obedience isn't enough to stop the de-evolution of life around us. In that model, the only answer is to worship and obey harder and get out of physical life as quickly as we can for surely 'heaven' is better.

We in this future life have forgotten what the Ancients knew, planned and set in place. Everything in the world and/or life today is the end result of a “word”. Everything!

Unfortunately, there have been words of domination, of usury, of greed, violence, deceit and trauma uttered into the Original Energy Field that is all GOOD, i.e. intelligence, love, wisdom, respect, equity.

They were not uttered by you and you and the rest of your soul family in physical body suits have gotten trapped in their emotional, mental, physical forms. And so as long as those old words and imprints remain, our Earth experiences will continue to deteriorate.

The Ancients saw that this would be happening. They knew that deterioration would happen. They knew the situation in a way we are only beginning to consider. They knew that not all beings on this planet were coming from agendas that would benefit the web of life. We future ones have thought that when others realigned to Love they would become part of the solution. The Ancients knew that not all Beings on this planet were Love/Good motivated. Those Beings are living their ‘truth’, their agenda, just in the wrong planet. They need to be removed back to their homes.

And so the Ancients planned for us, the future humanity. Over the millenniums they put in place structures that were so intricacy designed and placed that when the time was right and activate, their frequencies would broadcast codes to create a powerful vibrational web that would reach into the core of the earth and rise to include earth’s outer spheres. The codes are like an incredible software program going into the greatest system of life, the energy of our living field.

Beginning at the lowest frequency and slowly rising to broadcast the Original harmonics of our Divine Home and Our Divine Agenda, Good for all in the Web of Life.

In planetary terms it would be Uranus, the planet of sudden, spiritual insight being turned to dissolve the old structures represented by Saturn. The question for each of us will be, “Do you have the strength, courage and tenacity to embrace the sudden visions of Uranus and take actions that will move you out of all structures and systems based on control, discounting, constriction of your Soul’s yearning?”

The Ancient Ones

Hidden for Our Time

I was surprised, maybe shocked, when I was told that the pyramids and structures such as Stonehenge were for Our Time!

What does that mean for you?

Like me, have you looked out over our world and felt sorrow at the lack of connections, generosity, joy, rich heart-felt and honest conversations for solution?

Words like “we are one” echo down hollow corridors and fall flat at the edge of refugee camps, at the feet of rape victims, at the doors of prisons filled with pain, by hospital beds filled with disease and within permeating poverty entrapping families.

As Future Ones, we are witnesses of Divine plans gone awry, of Divine Natures discounted and of the Cancer of Greed and Abuse. Our hope for a Shift back to the Harmonics of Good is being sorely tried.

Now, in your imagination, breath and float back millennia and look through the eyes of an Ancient One. Sense yourself in her body, look down and see her feet. As you lift your eyes, sense her presence is in circle with others. Feel arms around waists, hands entwined.

Their harmonic is We Are One.

We are of Good IS their heartbeat. Sense the depth of respect and joy as you look into their eyes.

Witness them as they consider the possible futures. Notice the twinkle in their eyes as if they know a secret.

Quietly, we Future Ones, listen. We hear their clarity. We hear their greatest wish for this planet, to provide GOOD and complete removal of all domination and greed agendas. Their question? Will humanity make it happen? Feel their great desire for an easy clearing of such destructive forces even as they hold a deep knowing that difficulties may arise. Let their deep determination that their Future Families WILL return to the Oneness of Joy, of Generosity, of Good seep into your bones.

And now to why their eyes twinkle. The Ancient Ones are intelligent, powerful, compassionate beings. They would not let such a critical outcome, life or death, be left to chance. In secret they are laying powerful contingency plans.

In your imagination see the table in the center of the room, a large map laid on it. An Ancient One steps forward, smooths the map and turns to the group. One by one the Ancients come closer and ponder the surface as they point to locations critical for this plan. Here will be a pyramid, here will be a circle of stones, here will be a cavern of crystals, here will be a forest, and here a deep hidden waterway.

Far back in time, these Ancient Ones are preparing a network, a network to hold Codes of Return, confident of the power they are embedding.

Their plans include many physical forms. They will imprint Codes within each to be activated if the Future Ones find themselves on the edge of destruction. In the instant of activation forms be alive with frequencies and create an extensive broadcasting system. Broadcasting vibrations of our Original Divine Harmonic, our Original Agenda and the clearing frequency of Sovereignty into our Unlimited Field of Energy.

In future seeing the Ancients have run this plan over and over. No form, system or culture created by agenda's of greed and control will be able to stand against these broadcasting frequencies. Codes to Return are the secret embedded within a network of Nature for our time.

It's sounds will begin with a low hum, a vibration, a call that awakens the longing for community, valuing, respect, generosity and compassion. It is a hum that awakens humanity to remember. When you feel it stir something deep within, listen, trust and say "Yes!" this is who I Am! This is Who Humanity Is!

The vibrations of the Codes will increase in speed and gradually speak louder, call stronger. You must have the courage to drop all that does not bring Good to All. Drop labels, separations, judgments, bullying, harming, neglecting, discounting, fears, doubts. Let them fall like the leaves of a tree in Autumn.

The Codes of Return broadcasting from pyramids, circles, stonehenge, caverns, deep waters, tree groves will call. An acknowledgement, a word and the entire system responded with, "And it is so!"

Listen. "Yes! Remember!" they are saying,

Activated?

Yes! And a simple drawing caused it all.

The Drawing..

Are You Involved?

Everything has an energy vibration, When your are feeling content, full of joy, loving, your presence sings those chord harmonics and others feel and respond to them

Most individuals respond without considering why.

You are a pillar broadcasting joy and others respond.

Conversely, when you are experiencing pain, sadness, fear, your presence sends those discordant harmonics and others respond. Some move away from the discomfort, whole others are drawn closer. If those who draw closer have similar emotions, your own discomfort may expand. Your field of pain is made larger, those with similar pain justify each other and an energy community if created. Some who are attracted to those in pain come to take advantage of the imbalance. Let's call them hitch hikers or outsiders. Their intent is to feed off of the pain and to use their skills to manipulate the situation for their own advantage.

Human life has its ebb and flow, times of joy and times of sadness. Wisdom comes in to suggest understanding how to recognize your personal energy, its broadcasting, and how to assure your Good even at those time when you personal pain is triggered.

One way is to create safe energy space that remains stable even when you are imbalanced.

Here's how you can create Sacred, Sovereign space.

It begins with your choice to do so.

Here are the steps:

Say it is so:

My Sacred Space of is stable and consistent. It surrounds me like a crystalline cocoon holding me in All Vibrations of Good.

Choice the qualities of the energy field by completing this statement:

My sacred Space contains the qualities of:

Then gather some river/nature/garden stones with the intention that they represent your guardians.

You are going to create a Sacred Space and it can be created in your home, garden, office and in imagine anywhere you would like.

Here are the steps:

- Create the circle
- place something that will represent you into the center

- Imagine two glowing circles of Light surrounding the stone circle. One will attract teachers to assist you in your journey of growth
- One will repeal all who would harm
- Next ask that the vibrations of the Red Rock Vortex of protection, healing and balance surround the entire space.

You can add anything else that you would like, candles, pictures, items from nature, etc.

This is your personal point of Good, Healing and Protection. Declare that your Space is a part of the Greater amazing network of the Ancients.

Be involved:

- You might imagine yourself leaning up against a tree, sitting within a secret chamber of the pyramid, or within the circle of a Stonehenge and fill yourself with the hum of the vibrations.
- You are the activator. You create the focus. And the entire system responds.

Who would have guessed?

The end? NO! More Codes to come...

No Storage Available!

Computer Panic and Life!

Everything in my world was going great... UNTIL Life seems to have a way with those UNTIL moments doesn't it?

My day was going great UNTIL my great MAC flashed an error message.. "Cannot save. No storage."

What do you do when the document you have been working on intensely for a half hour is at the whim of a computer error or, please forbid, a shutdown and total loss?

Panic?

That is certainly an option. Maybe not the most productive one, but an option.

Everything begins in energy right? That is my philosophy. So, check out the energy and blockages in the computer. Two days, two technicians and $70.00 later, the computer is right.... no storage!

Next, check out my energy. What is this all about?

Well, the computer is right again!

The Ancient Ones are in the process of activating Divine codes. I have shared the first stage. There are even more to come. What do you think those new/ancient "software programs", being broadcast/downloaded into the energy field of humanity and the greater Web of Life will do to that system? What does that mean to that Great Computer in the Sky? And what about your own personal portion of the Great Computer?

I hadn't thought about that and I'll bet that you have not either.

If you have a computer you know that new software, new downloads and new programs, cause changes and even require that the old ones be removed. If you write and create on your computer there are times you clear history, delete duplicates and simply remove old documents that no longer serve. In that process, it is wise to defrag the system, condense and rearrange in order to keep your computer efficient. Have you thought that the same type of processes are necessary as you move from child thinking to adult maturing? As you move from victim patterns to independent governance? As you move from antiquated beliefs to expansive concepts?

Well, here I am to tell you that the Web computer which holds space for your own personal "computer" is being upgraded this year in such extensive ways that your old software, victim experiences, limited fears will be challenged.

Be ready to let go of what you think you know in order to consider the new... which is really the Ancient, intended agenda and plan for this Earth and therefore for your life.

Breath, close your eyes, affirm that those in Spirit around you hold a space of Sovereignty, Love, Grace, Truth, Evolution, and Joy. Declare that you are moved with their guidance into your next Highest Expression of Your Soul with Grace and Ease. Be willing to examine what you had not considered, to examine what you had not been told, to Shift into a Greater Program of Good.

The Codes activated to create the magnificent broadcasting network will disrupt constructs manifesting from greed, control, usury, domination, violence and all that constricts Good. At the same time, the hum of your Divine sings to you to remember and focus on the Ancient Story as your foundation. We are being called out of our "freeze".

Let yourself consider what my computer experience has of value for you.

Let's stand together in Love of all that is Good!

The Gender Codes

You'll Want to Read This..

Today I am going to write with directness. I will begin speaking of what is as well as what has been from so far back in "time" that no-one has memory.

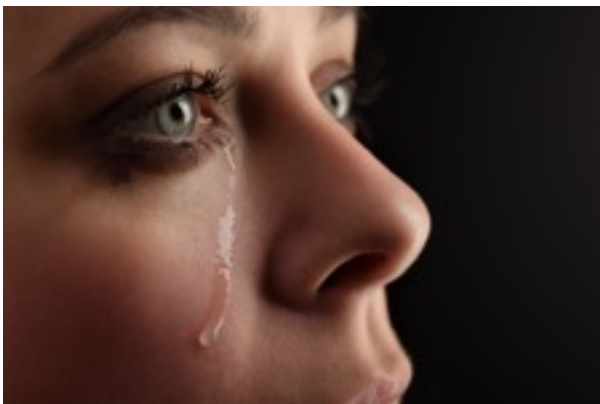

What is and has been is that there are three energy streams of life on this planet. Three Family groups. Each family's stream came from their original agenda, an intent from which it "birthed". The agenda is "hard wired" into the very core of each family group.

The 3 agendas are:

1. To create and experience aspects of Good for All
2. To create and experience Domination over others
3. To create and experience Usury of others

We are given a glimmer of these agendas through Paul Ray's value studies begun in the '80's. He identified these 3 value groups as: Cultural Creative, Traditionalists, and Modernists.

We are facing the same situation that The Ancient Ones faced before this planet was inhabited. That situation is one that has been forgotten. All families with the Divine agenda to create and experience aspects of Good had become enslaved. Those whose agendas were to dominate or use others gained our enslavement in the same manner that enslavement happens today - through all forms of deceit and violence. These 2 family groups and their agendas are Outsiders on this planet.

Our situations is dire. Why we are here, how we became enslaved is not as important as, "How to get out of bondage". The Ancient Ones thought they had found the answer and yet here we are.

Editorial comment: You can go to these free videos to understand the history behind the Gender decision. What Happened?

The Ancients had conceived an amazing plan. The planet we call Earth was to be the game board upon which the return to freedom would be possible.

This week I am going to focus on only one segment of the plan. A critical part that would assure freedom and authority to some of our Soul family members. Freedom from the rule of the dominators and parasitic usuries was key to our Return to Soul Agenda.

Editorial comment: An example of where entrapment has taken us is shown in this video: Women Rising

To accomplish our Divine Family's freedom the original plan included 2 Earth body suits. One we have come to call Male. The other we call Female.

Art by Teyjah

Now, we Ancient Ones will speak..

"Our Future children. How we wish that our plan had flowed smoothly from the beginning. If so, this planet would today be the Garden, the rejuvenating, enriching experience that is possible here. Alas, we are yet unfinished with our masters.

"Therefore, the Codes of Gender are being reaffirmed, anchored and activated. It is hoped that the broadcasting power of their vibrations will awaken the remembrance of mission within each Divine Soul family member. This download and broadcasting will cause questioning, will require letting go of old concepts and will reverberate to shake the walls of separation, of powerlessness, and of confusion within individuals, families, and circles of leadership. These gender missions are the foundation for freeing life on the planet.

"And you, our Future Ones, will ask, "What Missions?"

"Today our message is simple. The Souls who chose to incarnate into a Male body suit were prepared to carry the ownership marks for 2 Soul members. It is like taking the "chains" from another and to carry both sets as your own. And why would a Soul do that? Out of Love! To free the "Other" is to return authority back to the Divine Families committed to the agenda of Good for All.

"The Soul family members who chose to birth into a female body suit, freed of the chains of ownership, had the right and authority to claim, create, and cause Good. From that authority the Female would remove all energies that would take away that Good.

"How was it to play out?"

"Those Outsiders of Domination and Parasitic Usury were constantly monitoring those with "chains". The Outsiders were the masters, the gods over our family. Those soul members in Male bodies would continue to be owned by the Outsiders and had to be obedient to them.

"However, the Female body suit was "unseen" on the Earth. Those Soul family members could design and call forth all the sustenance the mission force would need. They could be in intimate relationship to the intelligence of Earth. That intelligence was the base for the Females as they identified the needs and wants of the greater Soul group. All of the Female actions were unseen by the Outsiders.

"The mission of those in Female body suits was to design systems, create projects, and set policies to assure a culture in which the Divine Agenda of Good for All could unfold. Their innate abilities assured the vision, the voice, connection to Earth and the authority of Leadership.

The Male's mission was to stay connected to the flow of Divine Source and to flow that energy through the body suit's heart center to nourish and strengthen those on Female mission The Male are the Nurturers.

"Yes, you are hearing correctly.

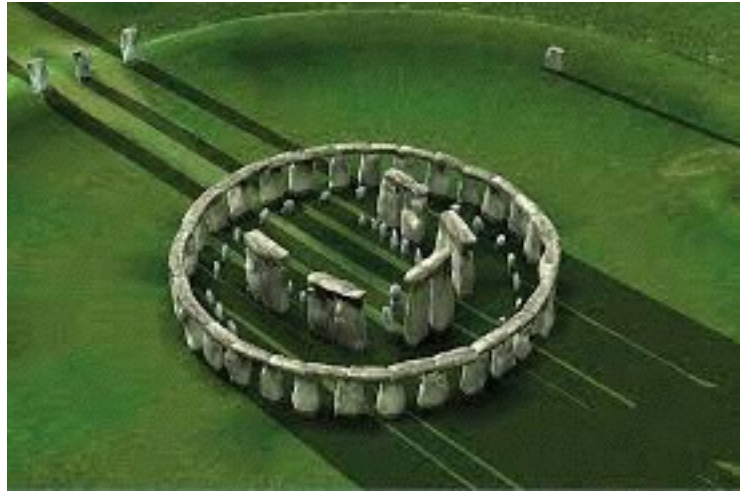

"Women are the points of visionary LEADERSHIP.

"Men are the points of strong NURTURING.

"And those Codes of Gender are now activated to be broadcast throughout the entire Web of Life by way of the Great Network of the Ancients. In the coming weeks we will share more about these valuable Gender Codes.

"For now, ponder, question and wonder how your Divine Gender Mission would look.

"We remain your Strong, Clear, Committed Ancient Family!"

Editorial question: Do you have your personal Sacred Sovereign Space set up? As the vibrations calling for our return to our Divine expand and speed up, it will serve you to have a stable place within the network.

Here is how:

Sacred Sovereign Space and Red Rock

The end? NO!

Gender Code and Chakra Path

Chakras - Not As You Know Them..

To understand how the gender missions were to play out, we need to go back to the original chakra system.

What? You mean the 7 chakras are not the Original?

No, indeed they are not!

The 7 represent the system of survival put in place by those of the Outsider's agendas when our Divine Plan was discovered.

More on that here...

The Original Chakras were wired in order to move the Souls in body suits easily back to their Divine Family Harmonic/Soul. AND, the female unfoldment was different from the male unfoldment. Therefore, the chakras steps are not the same in both bodies.

Remember, the Soul in the female body suit was not "owned" by the Outsiders and had authority that the Soul in the male body suit did not. This was key to the mission of Earth. That mission was to identify all that the Outsiders had implanted by their presence. What the Outsiders placed has kept our Divine Families enslaved.

So, here is the evolutionary paths for each gender.

Male, Whose role is to be the nurturer:

1. Causal
2. Crown
3. Heart
4. Feet
5. Earth
6. Solar Plexus
7. Base
8. Creative
9. Hara
10. Thymus
11. Throat
12. Third Eye
13. Knees
14. Base of Spine
15. Medulla Oblongata

Female, Whose role is to stand firmly and remove control and greed:

1. Causal
2. Feet
3. Earth
4. Base
5. Creative/Sexual
6. Solar Plexus
7. Hara
8. Heart
9. Thymus
10. Throat
11. Third Eye
12. Crown
13. Knees
14. Base of Spine
15. Medulla Oblongata

Understanding what each chakra develops will give you a picture of each gender's path of evolution.

Here is the path of the Male as defined by each chakra:

First - Causal: Located at least 18 inches above the crown chakra, this chakra is the pace for the Soul to go over the life plan's before accepting them and moving into birth. "This is my body, my life and I come with planned purpose."

Second - Crown: This is the connection point to Source energy as it moves through the Sun. This connection is critical for a male's mission because the Outsiders cannot access the higher vibrations. The Male holds connections to flow the re-calibrated energies into the world to strengthen and nourish.

Third - Heart: The Heart center is the base for the Male's choices. It is his way of functioning and identifying what Female design resonates with his heart. Males were intended to remain at this point until the Females had completed her basic steps of connecting to the Earth, looking from the Base chakra to identify needs, working with the creative, manifesting chakra to create a design and bringing that design into reality and then activating the next step of her mission at the Solar Plexus. That is the power center for Females to discern what energies will expand Good and what energies will cause greater constrictions, dominations and usury.

Fourth - Feet: The energy from Source moves through the portal of the Sun to be re-calibrated for use on this planet. For males, the energy for working in the denser frequencies of Earth was to become available after the first three chakras are active and the women have cleared the Outsiders. Then they were to work together in creating cultures of Good from which benefit for all would emerge.

Fifth - Earth: Once the Females had used their authority to cleanse the Divine Family's energy fields of all Outsider energy, the Male was safe to connect to the Earth and work with the Great Mother.

Sixth - Solar Plexus: From the strength of Heart and connection to Earth, the solar plexus opens naturally for the male. He is free of ownership and can begin functioning from love to expand his contributions to that which he loves.

Seventh - Base: The base chakra opens in the safety of Outsider's removal. Then the Male can look at life on this planet and consider his needs and wants without the influence of domination, greed, control, usury.

Eighth - Creative: The creative center was not intended to be a sexual center. Sexuality was to one way the Male nourished the mate of his heart. The greater power is to use the power of Word to call forth forms. Mis-use of sexuality is the greatest polluter of energy on this planet and the non-use of imagination is the greatest waste.

Ninth - Hara: The Hara is the place of balance and integration. This alignment in both Male and Female systems prepares for lifting to the next regions.

Tenth - Thymus: From the thymus center, the Male can explore and understand other dimensions within our Galactic experience. Something not safe as long as he carried the contracts of Outsider ownership.

Eleventh - Throat: The throat is activated at this point of his evolution to give the male the ability to express his truth through sounds after he is in a place of freedom/sovereignty. The previous steps have built a foundation of integrity, understanding, wisdom and love.

Twelfth - Third Eye: The third eye opens for the Male to support his greater contributions. It was planned that at this point, the outsiders would be totally eliminated, this power would be based on heart truth and he could help transform our family's fear/chaos.

Thirteenth - Knees: The knees represent a Soul's conscious choice to step into Universal contribution for the Greater Divine families, to serve.

Fourteenth - Base of Spine: With the great clarity and depth of growth, the energy moves to the base of the spine, the personal Tree of Life, and begins opening possibilities for greater flowering.

Fifteenth - Medulla Oblongata: This chakra is the expansive branches which open with the Manna from Heaven, the ideas, possibilities, collaborations intended to fulfill the agenda of creating Good for All.

Tree of Life
Circle of Energy, Resource and Abundance

Here is the path of the Female as defined by each chakra:

First - Causal: This point is at least 18 inches above the crown. At this chakra, the soul coming into the body re-evaluates the plans. When they are accepted the causal is activated like flipping a light switch. It is the soul's way of confirming, "This is my body, my life and I come with planned purpose."

Second - Feet: The energy from Source moves through the portal of the Sun to be re-calibrated for use on this planet. For females, that energy moves from the Causal through her body systems into the feet chakra to firmly ground her to Earth. This gives the female the authority to speak and remove Outsiders from Earth and beyond.

Third -Earth: The energy for the Female goes immediately into our Mother, the Earth. This is her connection to the unlimited energy that Earth has stored for our support in our Earth walk. Here is where the Female anchors solidly into the bosom of Earth, the roots of her sisters as resource Fourth - Base: Next the energy naturally activates the base. This is where the female was to look out over this new planet and consider her own plans to decide what she would want and need in support of her family and the mission. This is her place to choose all that would cause the Souls on mission to thrive and be abundant.

Fifth - Creative/Sexual: After building a relationship with the Earth and learning to ask for needs and wants, female energy moves to the the next center, the creative chakra. Here she learns to create from energy with simply a word. Here she becomes very aware that she has created the sees for what shows up in her life. She develops a keen sense of accountability for her world.

Sixth - Solar Plexus: This center holds the ability to discern what constricts life and what expands life. The solar plexus is the most important point on a female's mission. She knows that Earth supplies all that she needs and wants and she knows that her ideas become physical. She recognizes any constricting, sabotaging, limiting forms in her world. She can taste good and evil., and knows that she is responsible to identify and remove the evil.

Seventh - Hara: After the first five centers are activated then the energy of the hara clicks in to bring balance into her system that prepares her to move into the higher centers.

Eighth - Heart: Only after refining her sense of integrity, her commitment to correct principles and with her foundational energy integrated and balanced was it intended that a female's heart chakra would naturally open. When a female knows that she has the power to claim space, design for Good, to hold the womb for the mission, then her heart comes on board. From that place she will act with compassion for the expansion of all. Forcing the heart to activate before a female is grounded in her power and respected for her voice does harm.

Ninth - Thymus: Now the female is ready to begin the exploration of other dimensions within our galactic experience, reclaiming her gifts and knowledge.

Tenth - Throat: This center gives the female the ability to move the energy of her authentic expression into sound, to speak, to sing, to communicate. These sounds express her individual clarity, her unique role of service and vision for the greater families. Her words are not hollow and false but filled with her truth.

Eleventh - Third Eye: This point opens naturally to allow her inner skills to come forth as support of her authentic self.

Twelfth - Crown: This is the place for her direct conscious connection to the Source, the Sun being an expression of Sacred. This point was designed to be instrumental to her guidance as she awakens to greater possibilities.

Thirteenth - Knees: The next chakras are held in the knees. These provide the action all of humanity wants to access. It is the conscious choice to step into our Universal purpose. In natural evolution, individuals transform and free themselves from tribal mind, from parasitic influences, from imbedded patterns to become a Master of our Self. Then they bow in service. In that process they are refined and live with sovereignty, nobility and integrity.

Fourteenth - Base of Spine: This indicates a step up into higher regions as the energy opens to the personal Tree of Life.

Fifteenth - Modulla Oblongata : The energy moving through the entire system and up the spine is intended to reach back to the Divine and ask for more energy. Each individual's reach for more energy brings great flow from Source that was intended to lift the entire family. Calling for "Manna from Heaven" completes the energy system's circle.

Editorial question: Do you have your personal Sacred Sovereign Space set up? As the vibrations calling for our return to our Divine expand and speed up, it will serve you to have a stable place within the network.

Here is how: Sacred Sovereign Space

For Your Personal Activation:

It will be valuable to take time to energize you personal Gender /Path.

Here is one way:

Set aside time weekly for the next 4 weeks to meditate on each Chakra Center beginning with the Causal.

1. Imagine yourself at each Chakra and consider the gift of that step to personal evaluation.
2. Then ask yourself these questions and write your answer in a journal:
3. What comes up in reaction or relationship to this Chakra?
4. How effective am I with this step?
5. What can I do to bring this gift/skill into my life?
6. What stops me with this Chakra step?

I send you much Love and Excitement for this journey,

Dreaming Awake Our Ancestors

The Lost Female Mission..

For eons, women have lived under someone else's rules. They have helped others (usually the man in her life) succeed at their dreams. Women have lived within discrediting cultures; what they know is not enough, what they do is not enough, who they are is not enough. They have been the back bone of everyone's life and yet discounted and treated as less valuable than men. Their own life has been unattended.

For me, that discrediting was subtle. As a daughter I learned to take on yard chores so that my father could do his religious work. I took on the major responsibilities for the children and home so that my husband could try his hand at various job options. As a result, by the time my children were raised, I had forgotten what I loved. The best I could remember is that in high school I had wished to be a better artist, I loved colors.

I am not alone in having lost my way.

In 1997 I met a Native American filmmaker. He had documented three young Native men who had gone into a jungle cave in South America. This is where the bones of their ancestral lay. They committed to stay in the cave and the jungle until they had "dreamed awake" the bones of their decimated tribe.

I said how impressed I was with their actions. The filmmaker turned to me and challenged, "When are you going to dream awake the bones of your ancestors?" In confusion I asked, "What?" "The women," was his only reply.

It was not suggested that I research, or study history to bring back our Ancient Mothers. But that I “dream” them awake.

The Original Female Mission has been decimated, hidden. It has been raped and tortured out of us. We have lost our way and we don't know it. Women have been so squashed that we in the West consider ourselves “privileged” when we are really Stepford Wives living in subtle forms of occupation. My “dreaming” took me back to The Ancient Ones and truths they have held for us.

At least 800,000 years ago there were souls on this planet. If we imagine that they acted from the Original plan as Male and Female, what would their story be?

Editor: Here is a narrative story line from the Ancient One's teachings. I will use Male, Female and then the names from the Judeo-Christian story of The Garden.

After checking out the life plans at the Causal Center, the Soul moving into the Male body suit agreed and slipped into the Earth body suit. Once he had landed, he spent the daylight time walking the new planet to get used to this solid Earth body. He tried out the systems, adjusted the openings for vision, worked the appendages for movement and grasping of objects. It had been well planned and he was happy with the suit. It was proving to be capable of moving him on this new home.

Male/Adam's walk about was the initial test of this new planet-sphere, the system, the balance and it gave time for fine tuning. This was a lonely time, a dangerous one for he was monitored by those who owned the Greater family. Plans were for him to stay connected to the unseen spiritual guidance. In this way, the Outsiders would think he was just a lazy “slave” exploring this new planet. Although a target, his love for his Greater Family provided him strength and commitment.

As Adam and his team worked to make adjustments, another team worked with the Soul who was to inhabit the Female body suit. They knew this plan would be a touchy business. It was certainly wrought with potential dangers for both Adam and Female/Eve. However, the possibility of freedom, of sovereignty and return to the Divine Agenda was worth the gamble. And so, while monitoring Adam's progressions, Female/Eve and her team used the information gathered to inform her mission.

At Control Central/ the Causal Center, Eve gathered with her team. This was the day. Adam had done a great job of surveying this new planet. Working from his information her team had been able to make adjustments to provide the best possibilities for Female/Eve's mission. Now it was time for this Soul to move into her Earth suit.

Everyone hoped that the body suit, free of outsider's contracts would give her the necessary invisibility. If the outside owners knew that the family was planning a way out of slavery, they would move to crush the Earth volunteers.

As she moved through her Feet centers, Female/Eve was lost in her thoughts. Then the deeper, rich body of Earth enfolded her and she heard a gentle voice laughing and calling her name.

“Eve, you're here! Finally! Isn't it amazing to actually see and touch what had existed only in our vision?”

And appearing, arms outstretched, was her dear friend, the intelligence that was holding the space for Earth.

They spoke of the energy that was coming in from Home and the adjustments made by the recalibration team. The current level seemed to satisfy the current needs with enough excess that Earth could handle this storage as intended.

Mother Earth spoke, “My team has played a bit with the food supply. It is a beginning. They have been running a few tests as they waited for you.

“I know that when you begin designing a more extensive network of supply for the mission group, we will have to have an increase in energy levels. We have found some issues that we had not thought of but putting our minds together we have been able to come up with some amazing solutions,” said Gaia as she and Female/Eve solidified their commitment to mission.

While Female/Eve activated her base center to survey needs and the creative center to make and design plans, her interactions were with the intelligence of Gaia. This preserved the safety of the mission. By not involving the Male/Adam the Outsiders watching him had no hint of the rebellion being set in place. The sovereign Female/Eve and the intelligence of Mother Earth could work and all were safe.

So, Female/Eve worked with Gaia as Female/Eve determined needs and made plans to fill those needs. She designed the Garden, what would be planted, where there would be restful benches, what flowers would lift the Soul, etc. for the Good of All. She was the architect who designed Space.

What does that say about women today? That they are the ones intended to design systems, create policy, negotiate benefits, vision into being All culture. The voice of Woman is the voice of Leadership.

Are you designing your own space, your own life, your own home, your own schedule in ways that bring benefit to All, including yourself? And are you doing it after spending a great deal of time within the energy of Mother Earth?

Women are not here to make other's dreams succeed. They are here to make the dreams, the visions, determine the foundations. And then to have others, especially Heart connected Males, assist in making those dreams real.

Step into that Mission and join your Sisters!

I send you much Love and Excitement for this journey,

More yet to share...

Diminishing Women -

Destroys the Web of Life!

If I had needed a reminder of the deplorable state of women in our country, it could not have come with greater power than via my oldest Granddaughter, Sara. Sara is an incredible young woman... you know that kind of granddaughter, right?

She lives in another state, is doing her very adult life, married to a wonderful man as a partner and has always stepped into adventures that made me wish I were 40 years younger.

She sent me a text this morning that read, “At a conference today - Take Root: Reproductive Justice in Red States.”

Flash back to 1970’s when women were fighting for the Equal Rights Amendment here in this country. And then to 1973 and the Roe vs. Wade landmark decision by the U.S. Supreme Court on the issue of abortion. I was so brainwashed by my patriarchal religion that I did not support the ERA nor did I cheer Roe vs. Wade. Oh, to do life over!

I had planned to write a very different newsletter this week. One cheering you on to finding your own vision, your own voice, your own authority. And that is an incredibly, valuable idea.

And...

If we women in the West do not wake up and shake off the blinders we have had placed on our eyes, the chains around our belly wisdom and return to our strong roots within Earth and our sisters, humanity is in BIG trouble!

Why do you think that women have been so targeted over the ages? Why have we been beaten down, laughed at, discounted?

Who has benefited because women are not at the decision making tables in GREAT numbers?

Look around you and see the devastation of corporations gone wild, the human trafficking, rape, murder, poisoning and double speak. You see the end results of domination and you see the total lack of the values, visions and voices of the women who create Good for those they love.

We, women in the U.S.A., have a tendency to walk around in a stupor. We talk of being privileged, of being safe, of being blessed while the power over our bodies, our food, our air, our children, our time has been taken from us. You think not? Who dictates your health care? Who decides if GMO foods are labeled? Who gets a pass when fracking destroys water or when lead laced water is sent into your home? Who benefits when the cancers in female reproductive systems run rampant? Who decides whether you have time off work and who decides that your work efforts are worth less than men?

A valuable friend of mine who helped women in Russia claim their place in the politics of that country said, "When you are not at the decision making tables, you are the meat!" Well, my sisters, we have been the meat for way too long.

Where do you begin? By waking up! All is not well and it is because the female mission has been squelched. Standing and designing cultures that result in Good is not up to someone else! That is YOUR job. You are needed. Your malaise, your depression, your fear are the very things that allow those whose agenda is to dominate and use humanity want. Don't give it to them!

Reconnect with the Earth! Find other women. Talk with one another honestly. Build strong connections Do not think that you are an isolated tree in this Forest of Sisters! You are so bound together in Spirit that when one wakes up, others wake up.

The singer/songwriter, Cris Williamson, told me in a conversation with her, “Everything that women began and accomplished in the 1960’s began with conversations over coffee in kitchens or coffee shops.”

We have to start talking with one another about things that matter and make sure our feet move!

treesisters.org is a group I want to highlight this week. I asked Clare Dakin, the Founding Mother, where you could go in their network to be feed by the energy of trees and Mother Earth. Her gifting to you is their archive of meditations and guided visualizations. I have so benefited by them and am honored to share them with you. Women are sooo needed! Click here..

With a Crippled Female Mission - Who Benefits!

In order to set your world “straight”, you have to know what “straight” is. Last week I wrote that Diminishing Women - Destroys the Web of Life!

How can you not diminish women when what the world has come to accept as fact is a distorted story that diminishes the mission of Souls in a Female Body Suit?

”We, The Ancient Ones, tell you it was intended that the Female walk on this new planet for very specific purposes.

- It was not to be the unending nurturers
- And it was not about showing reverence and obedience to a male deity.
- And it was not about birthing babies
- And it was not to be a mate to assure that males succeed
- And it was not..

“Does that make you want to stop reading this?”

“Humanity’s concept of a women’s purpose is so far away from the original that you cannot set your world “straight” unless you put your old dogmas down.

“You often complain that there is no handbook for Earth life and yet the plan was imprinted into the blueprint for the Earth body suits to emerge through the chakra systems and DNA. We want you to pay close attention as we again point out the intended unfoldment as indicated by the chakra centers. Then we will explain what happened because the Female Mission and Imprints were crushed.

”Let us repeat the first evolution points for the Souls in a Female body suit.

“First - Causal: It is at this chakra before birthing that a soul re-evaluates the plans. I could be called Control Central. When the plans are accepted the causal is activated like flipping a light switch and the birth process begins. Each Soul has had final say over the body suit, the life plans, the Sacred contracts and planned purpose. For those birthing in a Female body, that includes acceptance of the Greater Mission for the entire Galactic Family.

“Second - Feet: The energy flows through the top of the head, down the midline of the body through her body systems and through the feet chakra to firmly ground her to Earth. One Law on this planet is that Divine Souls in physical body suits have the say as to what transpires here. That is doubly true for the Female. At the beginning, the Female body suit carried no marks to allow Outsiders to own her. This gives the female the authority to speak and remove Outsiders from Earth and beyond.

“Third - Earth: The energy for the Female is grounded into our Mother, the Earth. This is her stability, her foundation and her connection to the unlimited energy that Earth has for our support in our Earth walk. Here is where the Female anchors solidly within the roots of her sisters.

“Fourth - Base: Once the Female has the resonance with Earth, her evolution moves to naturally activate the base chakra. Here she looks out over this new planet to consider what will be needed to allow her family and community to thrive. This is her place to choose all that would cause the Souls on mission to thrive and be abundant. This is the point of The Architect.

Fifth - Creative/Sexual: After building a relationship with the Earth and designing systems for Greatest Good, female energy moves to the creative chakra. Here she learns to create from energy with simply a word. Here she becomes very aware that she has created the sees for what shows up in her life. She develops a keen sense of accountability for her word.

Sixth - Solar Plexus: It is at this point that the power to sense evil is activated. This center holds the ability to discern what constricts life and what expands life and is the most important point on a female's mission. She knows how the Law of Manifestation works on Earth and that her ideas become physical. She recognizes any constricting, sabotaging, limiting forms are from Outsiders. With the authority to remove it to its home of origin, keeps her space safe and her heart naturally opens.

“Now, consider.

“Before Earth, a soul plans and prepares to design systems and to architect cultures. Coming into a Female Body Suit, she will have the creative genius and the mandate to bring Good into being.

" She knows that by practicing manifestation, she will gain clarity as how hardened forms came from an unseen word on this new planet. At the Solar Plexus she will learn to discern energy emerging from Good intent and that manifesting from intent to Dominate, Use, Destroy, Entrap, etc. With this knowledge, the Female is charged with the authority, afforded her by the Male mission, to name and remove all domination, greed and constriction.

“And then, shortly after moving through these centers, her mission is discovered and the body suits are re-engineered and replaced with Outsider suits.

“Go back in time and imagine. Be a Soul prepared for the Female mission. Your excitement. Your respect for your Soul members birthing as Male to allow sovereignty for you. And then you stretch into the Physical body vehicle.

“You turn on the system to connect to your off planet teams and find the communication system is fuzzy.

“You work to pull the energy into your midline and to move it to connect with the Great Mother, the way is restricted. When she affirms her plans and tries to move forward, she discovers that she has birthed into a crippled body suit.

“And so what is the distorted life women live in your current day?

•“ Over the ages, women, sensitive to energy constrictions, have tried to stay sane by burying intuitive awareness. Women have bottled up knowledge of power and told themselves that they are not enough for such matters. In the face of domination and discounting, women erupt with anger and then are told they are too emotional. And that anger is not pretty.

•“Women stopped gathering with other women because their expanded vision, knowing and voices threatened the Dominators.

- “In their role to birth children in great number, they have little time or attention to take their calling to identify and remove the Dominating Occupiers. This creative center was crippled to take away her power to create effortlessly with words.*
- “Women, robbed of their role of architect and leader, looked to men who wielded power and gained status from the status of “their” men.*
- “As with any discriminated group. they rejected their own, mimicked men, judged their visions, sensitivities intuition by the standards of the dominators.*
- “Women learned through the witch hunts and burning times to silence their voice, distance themselves from other women, let go of their gifts, push other women down, and look to men for approval.*

- “And in your present day you accept the role of women to nurture everyone and support men.

“That is where women are now and have been for thousands of years. Whether you name it the fall in the Garden of Eden when women are labeled sinners and locked away from knowledge that Good and Evil exists. Or you blame the rise of Patriarchy with its forces of Occupation, women’s mission has never been completed and Humanity suffers.

“You even miss the mark with the concepts that every Soul has had male and female lifetimes and therefore just need to balance the two. You assume men are assertive and women are passive. Men are to lead and women are to nurture. That is not “straight”.

Men are the heart centered nurturers whose evolutionary system has bypassed wiring to the heart. Women are the architect, the leaders whose connection to their power center was shut down. Souls chose different genders in other lifetimes because of the mission each afforded. We have all been held hostage in crippled bodies and given false purpose.

Until Now!

Sending such love and blessings,

Gandhi - Example of Female Mission

Video

Video

Someone in my world suggested that Christ was an example for all of us.

I did a double take because I value the example that has been assigned to the Teacher Christ and... I know that it is not valuable, as it stands, for everyone.

Again, the Female Mission is left out.

An excellent example of the Female Mission is Mahatma Gandhi. He stayed connected to creating from what Mother Earth provided. He saw all individuals as members of the human family to be treated equally with respect. He stood firmly for what was of benefit to the masses.

He did not bow to external authority, would not cooperate with harmful edicts and stood his ground in non-violence.

The Females mission is to connect to the intelligence of Mother Earth, work with her cycles and create abundance from what the Mother holds. A woman respects natural abundance and assures that the entire mission force of humanity thrives equally.

In the face of harm or dominating authority, the female mission is to understand that there are agendas and systems that will empower and encourage equality and there are agendas which will entrap and constrict, use and abuse even to the point of death. She knows that she holds the power to identify all that constricts, diminishes, entraps and destroys life and to the power to command their removal back to the worlds from which they came. With that awareness, she has the responsibility to stand firmly and say "Not Acceptable" "Not in my world." The Female Mission has as its basis of non-violence and non-cooperation with outside agendas and leaderships that cause harm within the web of life.

Another major aspect is her direct connect to the unseen worlds and dimensions. This is where her teams reside. As a women begins her mission of spiritual connections, it is wise for her to claim the qualities of her team. This can be done with a statement such as: The qualities of my Spiritual teachers, guides and mission team are.....”

When a woman is in her mission, she anchors in the solar plexus, seat of her belly wisdom, not the heart. That is the difference between the Christ example which speaks to the Male Mission and the Gandhi example which speaks to the Female Mission. The women remains the designer and protector of cultures while the men nurture her and her design.

Men's Ancient Mission -

Respectful Partnerships

You cannot focus on women without including men's story in the telling. It is not because we have lived in both bodies and we need to balance. It is because each gender had a valuable mission and the missions worked together. For a long time those missions were to create foundations and secure all aspects of Good for humanity. It was perfect for thousands of years, until all #@# broke loose!

We've talked about the Original Female mission to design space, create policy and establish a thriving culture. Then, she was to be the guardian of the culture into which the Mission force was birthed. I have suggested that Mahatma Gandhi is a good example of Female Mission.

The Male mission was to stay connected to the life force of home through his Crown Chakra. At the appropriate time, his Heart Chakra would open and be his guidance system. Christ's focus on Love and a Heart Directed life is a great example of Male Mission.

How do those Missions weave together into Respectful Partnering?

This is where the Ancients come in. They hold the history that causes our present situation to make sense.

In the worlds we inhabited before Earth, our family had been invaded by Outsiders whose agendas were to dominate and/or to use others. Through deceit, trickery, lies and eventually violence, they had gained ownership over those of the Light and we existed within three energy cultures: Good/Light, Domination/Control and Usury/Abuse. What we see in our physical world today is a reflection of the state of slavery that existed in the Galactic worlds before Earth. Because of the Outsiders and their agendas of Domination and Usury, the Families of Light existed as enslaved Being holding on to the hope of Sovereignty.

We were consciousnesses of Light heritage, yet the Outside masters had imprinted an ownership mark in our energy fields. In order to break free, Earth was planned. For the plan to work, blueprints for 2 Earth body suits were designed. One, the Male, would carry two ownership imprints and he remained a monitored target and slave. The Male body suit could be used at will by the Outsiders. (We will be talking more about this next week.) However, this left the second Earth body suit, Female, free of ownership.

Because Outsider's energy are from low vibrations, the Soul member on Male mission was safer if activities and focus was in the Higher frequencies, The Crown and Heart Chakra. Staying at the Higher Frequencies, it would appear to those monitoring as if nothing was happening on this new planet. That would keep both Male and Female safe temporarily.

What the Outsiders would see is Males in meditation states.

This clever plan kept the Outsiders unaware of the extreme mission of the Female to clear all Outside energies back to their home of origin. That was to be the Family's ultimate safety. Her Mission would come restore our Divine and Sacred State of Sovereignty.

So, the Male was to function from three Chakra Centers:

Causal/Command Central

Crown/All Possibilities

Heart/Guidance and Strength

And his heart was to be this strength and guidance center. Beyond carrying an ownership mark for the Female, he was to nurture, flow resources for all possibilities, and honor her voice as seen by her plans and policies.

Once the Females had opened and activated their initial 5 Centers, the extreme Female mission would be activated and completed from here 6th center, the Solar Plexus. When the clearing of all Domination and Usury energies had been accomplished, then the Male was out of harm's way, could eliminate the ownership imprints and work in the slower frequencies of Earth.

Here is the path of the Male as defined by each chakra:

First - Causal: Located at least 18 inches above the crown chakra, this chakra is the pace for the Soul to go over the life plan's before accepting them and moving into birth. "This is my body, my life and I come with planned purpose."

Second - Crown: This is the connection point to Source energy as it moves through the Sun. This connection is critical for a male's mission because the Outsiders cannot access the higher vibrations. The Male holds connections to flow the re-calibrated energies into the world to strengthen and nourish.

Third - Heart: The Heart center is the base for the Male's choices. It is his way of functioning and identifying what Female design resonates with his heart.

Males were intended to remain at this point until the Females had completed her basic steps of connecting to the Earth, looking from the Base chakra to identify needs, working with the creative, manifesting chakra to create a design and bringing that design into reality and then activating the next step of her mission at the Solar Plexus. That is the power center for Females to discern what energies will expand Good and what energies will cause greater constrictions, dominations and usury.

According to the Divine Plan, once the Females had used their authority to cleanse the Divine Family's energy fields of all Outsider energy, the Male was safe to connect to the Earth and work with the Great Mother.

You can compare the two paths by reviewing this blog about the Female unfoldment.

Consider that the Male Mission is to nurture, to be Heart centered, to be Heart guided and to bring strength and commitment to the one whose designs make his heart sing. How does that change how you look at men in your life?

Male Crippling

Female's Responsibility

The soul incarnating as a male planned to follow his heart. The resonance and ability to identify his partners were held within his emotional center, the Heart.

His job was to nurture and empower the female as she built cultures, identified energies that constricted the Divine life glow and declared the removal of all “evil” agendas of control, greed, usury and abuse from the planet.

In the Crippling, the Heart center of the male body suit was re-engineered and the energetic wiring bypassed his Heart center. Therefore, feelings did not naturally resonate. It left males blinded as to their partnerships and community. Men's disconnect from their emotions/heart did not occur from social pressure for men to be macho. This disconnect come because the re-wiring of the etheric body pattern by those with agendas of control and usury. And so, totally prepared to love, he is told to be power, weld control and to subjugate and kill as the warrior. Prove himself as dominator and wear a gun. Anciently, the initial response when a Soul is birthed into a crippled Male body was fear and then the decision to pretend o order to survive. The games became, who has the most toys, who has the sexiest girlfriend/wife, who has pushed his way to the top, who acts macho, or how shows less emotions? When you give power to a person who is fearful, you have distorted power.

Because they carried the contracts of ownership for himself and a Soul member birthed into a female body, Males were monitored. They were owned by the Outsiders who could manipulate and use them and their bodies at will. The heart pain for the male is already so great that any relationship problem can feel overwhelming. His response may be to run away, lash out, or to numb. It is not uncommon for relationships to become shaky when the woman steps from weakness into her power. Will she discover that he is really pretending? Will she leave him?

Society tells us that a man is logical. No. Men go into their mind as a way to avoid or lessen heart pain.

Because men carry the alliance “mark,” Outsider’s voices have kept up a chatter to discourage men from freeing themselves. These invaders are very committed to maintaining control. They walk around with male masks, hiding their true identities and letting our male family members take the blame for their cruelty and aggression. The concept of “aggressive white men”, “white occupiers” and “patriarchy as the problem” are myths. It is not our Soul members in Male bodies who have caused such havoc. It is the energy Beings with the agendas to control and use exerting their right of ownership. These Outsiders have used the Male body suits to walk amongst us, hidden from view. And our Soul members have suffered to see the destruction laid at their doorstep.

I share an example, one of many. In my work in the TAG Energy sessions.

I often do Past Life regressions to release a trapped aspect of a Soul. The process is Soul Integration and uses distant journeying, and telepathic communicating.

A client had repeating cycles of relationship failures. The question was, “Why such ongoing heart pain and relationship emptiness.

So in traveling back to discover the cause, the beginning of this pattern, her ancestor Thomas showed up. “It is mine,” he said. “My heart is breaking. My love was tortured and killed by my own hands. Her eyes of pain, of betrayal, of confusion will always be with me. I don't understand my actions. I hate myself.”

As I had his Spiritual team hold him, I went back before the murder. As I looked around, I saw Thomas with his Lydia. Young, happy, in love.... so joyful. And then I sensed the energy field of an Outsider. The agenda of this Outsider was to use others just to experience their pain. Thomas, in a Male body suit, was owned and had no sense of danger. The Outsider could slip into the body, push Thomas's soul out, murder Lydia for the sheer pleasure, exist the body, leaving Thomas's soul to re-enter and appear to have done this travesty. Now, remember, originally it was the Female's ability to discern the danger of the Outsiders, name them for what they were and demand their removal. And, the Female's body suit was crippled. Her Solar Plexus, power center, was bypassed and she had been trained to discount her sensing system. They were both left with no protection.

So, as a Healer from the Future, I could step into the story line as the Outsider came toward them. As a woman with teams of Spiritual Sisters, we surrounded the couple, and declared to the Outsider, “Stop. We know who you are and you no longer have authority here!” We called in our PTO teams who have the assignment to identify, neutralize, condense and remove all Outsider energy. We turned the Outsider's energy field in all of its constructs over to them.

We transformed the old story, eliminated the entire “occupation, murder, pain and hatred of self.” My client has gone on to develop friendships, relationships and community that were not occurring before.

Until women take on their original role, our world will be destroyed by the Outsiders. It did not begin with our Soul members in Male bodies. It began when women felt that they were “not enough” to stand up, thought they would have time to grow stronger and the Outsiders stepped in to cripple the body suits and use the Male body suit to crush the Female.

How does that change how you look at men in your life?

I'd love to have you leave a word or two in our comment community.

Every week I send out an email with information to break down the walls that keep humanity trapped. Short, specific, empowering pieces like this one.

YES! sign me up!

This week we are sending out a few offers to enrich or expand your understanding by taking action of the Gender role of the Female. That does not mean that our Soul family members in a Male body suit cannot join in.

If you would like to spend 30 each day for the next five days in an mini-course with processes to apply the Female Mission, this is where you click:

If you would like a “dip my toe” into this new water of understanding and so I would prefer a one sheet of simple actions steps, click here.

You are certainly welcome to click for both!

Leading Somewhere, I Promise

Recap:

How does the story I have been sharing with you fit into the little we know of Earth's history?

The story of our Original Agenda and Earth Plan is that Divine Families whose nature are aspects of Good came to this planet on mission. That mission was to free themselves from the ownership of Outside societies who had invaded their worlds and were imposing their agendas of Domination or forms of Usury.

The Divine Families came into two body suits because Male and Female each had a unique mission/purpose. Once on this new strange planet, they respected each other, worked, valuing each mission and lived together peacefully.

Their initial purpose was to explore this new type of planet while women decided what was needed for the mission force to thrive. Females designed and visioned to create environments that would allow the entire mission force to thrive. Then, women drew forth energy from within the Earth herself to “birth” plants, foods, shelter, etc. There was no need for spoken language, in fact, keeping communication telepathic keep their plans away from the Outsiders who were monitoring the soul in the Male body suit.

This could be interpreted as a Goddess society. Women were respected for their role as givers, creators of life. They were not worshipped above men but honored. At the beginning, the Female role as giver of life was not about birthing “children”. Expanding their numbers would come after the Outsiders were totally eliminated.

The Women literally designed a world of beauty, abundance, inclusion, joy, respect and all aspects of Good. It was the power of their intention that brought that world, spoken of in Christian scriptures as The Garden of Eden, into being. Did they sing, dance, pray as the means of that creation? Probably. Did men love, nurture, connect with heart strength? Yes, that was their assignment. Women designed and set policy. Men brought heart strength to nurture and to help make the design happen.

As the communities flourished, were stable, life secured, the Female was called into her next phase of mission. The wise teacher/serpent called her to “taste” the manifested energy/fruits. With the Female ability and belly wisdom, she could discern if the manifested form/fruit would expand life or would constrict life.

Then the Outsiders discovered the plans, i.e. the Judeo-Christian Garden of Eden and Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil Story tells the tale.

At that point, the Outsiders took over their ownership of the Male. The Outsiders re-engineered the blueprint for the body suits, crippling their natural evolutionary path and mission. Then they went a step further and replaced the suits with their own design that assured subjugation of the Souls in the body suits. We became “sheep” for a much deeper reason than we have been allowed to remember.

In the meantime, the Outsiders, through their right as Master, used the Male body to target and harm the Females. They did this in order to inflict damage and create a weakened, vulnerable state in the Female’s energy. Then, the Outsiders could “mark” them as owned and prevent the Females from naming the “evil” the Outsiders caused and having them removed to their Homes of Origin.

What we know:

About 400,000 years ago, we know that Neanderthals were on the Earth. They had a physical body suit and we have to assume that they had a Spiritual form which was the power within the suit. Just like today, they were Spiritual beings having a physical experience.

The little we know about them is similar to how our Divine Family began Earth Life. The Neanderthals:

- retained communities with a fairly stable total number
- they had the ability for speech although we have no record of written/spoken language

- they were nomadic
- they lived peacefully
- their immune systems seem to have been stronger than ours mirroring the Female mission to identify outside forces that could deteriorate or cause disease
- male and female had different tasks
- they seemed to have worked harmoniously together
- they began to decline about 50,000 years ago.
- 40,000 years ago they were extinct
- there is no clear connection of evolution between the Neanderthals and Cro-Magnon, the next physical body suit

The Neanderthals may well have been the foundation for the Goddess culture. The Divine Ancestress have been identified as existing between 25,000 BC and 500 AD.

Most of the information and artifacts concerning the vast female religion, which flourished for thousands of years before the advent of the classical age of Greece, Judaism, Christianity, was dug out of the ground after the Second World War.

Most astonishing of all was the discovery of numerous accounts of the female Creator of all existence, divinities who were credited with bringing forth not only the first people but the entire earth and the heavens above. There were records of such Goddesses in Sumer, Babylon, Egypt, Africa, Australia and China.

In agreement with the generally accepted theory that women were responsible for the development of agriculture, as an extension of their food-gathering activities, there were female deities everywhere who were credited with this gift to civilization.

There is a great possibility that the Neanderthals were in our Original Body Suits.

Spirituality, Mysticism and Women

Making Sense of Life

Human beings make sense of their world by telling stories. The first stories that become the compass for the way one sees and therefore walks in the world often come from the religious community into which one is born. In a world of survival, stories about someone larger than oneself, a prophet, god, leader, one who will give directions that you simply follow offers a sense of safety. The world has been figured out by someone else and all that you as an individual need do it learn the stories, give appreciation and then follow the directives. As long as one's experience can be explained by the concepts of this "tribal" religion, there is comfort. When the stories no longer make sense or when experiences prove the stories wrong, then, one is left adrift. Some go looking for stories elsewhere that provide understanding.

Religions offer their unique stores and are one piece of a very large puzzle of life. Nikola Tesla said, "If you want to understand the Universe, you must understand energy and vibrations." Some individuals want to understand the Universe which is usually beyond stories of or from a supreme leader such as God which religions hold as dogma.

For me, Spirituality IS the energy of the Universe. Within that field of vibrations are all stories, known and those yet to be explored. It is the vibrations we discern with our physical senses and call "Real". And it contains vibrations of stories held and discerned by our mental, emotional and etheric senses. Stories that vibrate within the regions of the unseen, undetected by our physical abilities, that are "Spiritually" discerned. When one understands that, then the Universe and the stories of the larger field opens to new views and possibilities. Spirituality understands the physical stores and explores those in the unseen. Spirituality also understands that the vibrations of each are interconnected. What happens in one region of vibrational waves will resonate such as emotional or mental will impact the entire field. In Spirituality the stories any Religion holds are seen as one part of the whole, alone they are limited in their scope. Understanding life, purpose, meaning and possibilities expands within Spirituality.

In most current religious structures, men have been seen as the authority voice. Traditionally women were taught to support the men in their life and follow his lead.

As the shift to female independence, for various reasons, women have learned to forge their own way. Their natural sensitivity to the vibrational waves brought them experiences of mental and emotional that did not appear to most men. The female psych has sensing centers that receive subtler vibrations. They had to learn ways to interpret what was being presented to them. This exploration naturally opens the door to information held in the Spiritual/unseen worlds. Gaining understanding of what they were experiencing brought them stories made sense of a larger picture of life. This bigger picture and can be called Spirituality. Those who forge into these regions are often called Mystics.

The Original Mission for those Souls choosing to incarnate into a Female Body Suit was to Design and Bring Life within the planet, create systems, set policy, design the Gardens. Then, she was to awaken to her Sensitive Gifts in order to Discern and be Guided with Visions that would bring Good to all in the Web of Life.

Taking back her life, her voice, the planet begins when a women takes back her Original, Divine Mission, and owns her gifts of sensitivity. Then she begins to learn how to use them as was intended. Understanding energy, she moves out of the small circle of her birth family and expands and expands and expands, taking the world with her.

"When women rise ~ ALL humanity is lifted."

Stepping Back

to See the Lie

I just began a book titled, Believing the Lie. It opens with a poem by William Blake.

“This life’s dim windows of the soul

“Distorts the heavens from pole to pole

“And leads you to believe a lie

“When you see with, not through, the eye.”

In the early part of my career I asked my Spiritual teachers, The Ancients Ones, “What is the greatest polluter of energy on the planet?” Their answer surprised me. “It is the misuse of sexuality.” Seeing sexuality with only the interpretations around me, I was puzzled.

“What is the correct use?” was my next question.

“You are not able to comprehend how it was to be,” they said. They could have added, “You have been living in the lie too long, and are unable to see through the lies of the physical.”

You have heard the statement, “If you don’t remember the past, you are doomed to repeat it.” That statement is an example of a lie that we believe and live within.

Werner Erhard exposed the lie when he said, “Knowing/understanding is the booby prize”.

If we only know and remember history, ours or the greater, we are bound to repeat it. Bound too! Knowing keeps the pattern alive in our minds. And, because the Law of Manifestation exists on this planet, holding a pattern in mind causes it to repeat and repeat and repeat. The Law says any “imprint” in the unseen energy fields will eventually show up in your emotions, your mental constructs and then in physical situations. The Law of Manifestation is just as sure as the Law of Gravity which assures that if you throw yourself off a five story building, no matter how much you wish to fly, your body will hit the ground like a rock. Old imprints, no matter where they come from, past, present or future plans, will show up in your life. And so, Knowing does not transform or change.

So, what is the missing piece?

YOU! You can make choices as to what imprints to transform/eliminate and which to embrace/repeat. YOU are the missing piece. History on the Game Board of Life is where you exert your Ability to Discern and step into your Power to Transform.

Living in the Lie is the problem with our world today. The stories that we have been told and the stories that we made up to try and make sense of our experiences have become “set in stone truths”. And, when we look around our lives and our world, we see where those stories have taken us; separated, limited, struggling, depressed, diseased and then the “leaders” decided to throw “terrorists’ into the mix just to amp up our fear and mis-trust.

I count myself fortunate that I was born with a deep curiosity. “Why” was my go-to word. “Why” has served me well as I looked at the end results of my own personal set of tribal stories. Granted, I didn’t begin questioning those stories until my 40’s while many began in childhood. Anyway, with my “why” questions, my Spiritual teachers unfolded a very different greater history. Knowing the history made it possible for me and others to go back in time and space, to work with powerful Spiritual teams and change and transform history. ou can too.

Next week I will share an overview of our Soul’s History from the worlds before Earth was planned.

Bigger View of History

Putting the Pieces on the Table

I have a very different view when it comes to the concept of “god”. Many concepts I was given as a child did not make sense. When I asked questions, “God wants it that way and He is greater than we are”, were not sufficient. Because I am a curious “why” person, I searched for answers.

I became a Radical Mystic Shawoman, because I found teachers and mentors in the regions of the unseen, Spirit, who held answers that made sense. They shared information about our history that has been lost or hidden to human view. They revealed Galactic Worlds that are nowhere to be found in our Earth histories.

Writer’s note: You can explore more of that information through videos and booklets at my Sacred Ground Academy website.

Bottom line is that there are three agendas amongst us. The first is the Original Agenda of Divine Good which was from our “Beginning”. We are Intelligent, Consciousness of All Good and existed from before Time or Space as we know it.

The other two are agendas of social systems outside of the Original Life Force of All Good. These societies invaded the Original energy fields far before Earth and brought deception, violence, enslavement and, as you can imagine, great trauma. Those Outsider have two basic agendas; Control/Greed, or Parasitic/User. The Outsider agendas, exist along side the Original agenda, three vibrational flows. They each express in various faces according to their basic intent, Good, Control or Usury.

We have believed the lie that there was only One agenda, One focus, One vision of what we call the Oneness of Good. When you live within the lie that god of good and then you come face to face with “evil” in some form such as trafficking, murder, war, torture, rape, or vicious diseases, you ask the question, “How can a god of Good allow or create this?” “Because god knows best,” is not sufficient nor is it even true.

But, when you understand that there are three agendas, Good, Control and Usury and the actions, qualities and intentions of each of the three show up in the spiritual, emotional, mental and physical regions of our Earth, a different question arises. “Does this manifestation express Good and serve my life, the life of my family or the lives of all in the Greater Web of Life?” Then you see that the Cancer on the Earth is not human beings, but the energies from agendas of Control or Usury moving and acting through human body suits, systems and policies.

How does that relate to our Earth experience with god? There was a time when each of those energy agendas took on the face, a representative, as focus for their agenda. We have come to call those representatives “god”. A claim that actions, ideology, systems are from “god” keeps the masses in line; obedient and non-questioning. When confusion emerges when all that “god” calls forth is not Good, the lie also kept humans in line with answers like, “God knows best.” It is this confusion and non-sensical answers that are big reasons that many have “rejected” god as a concept.

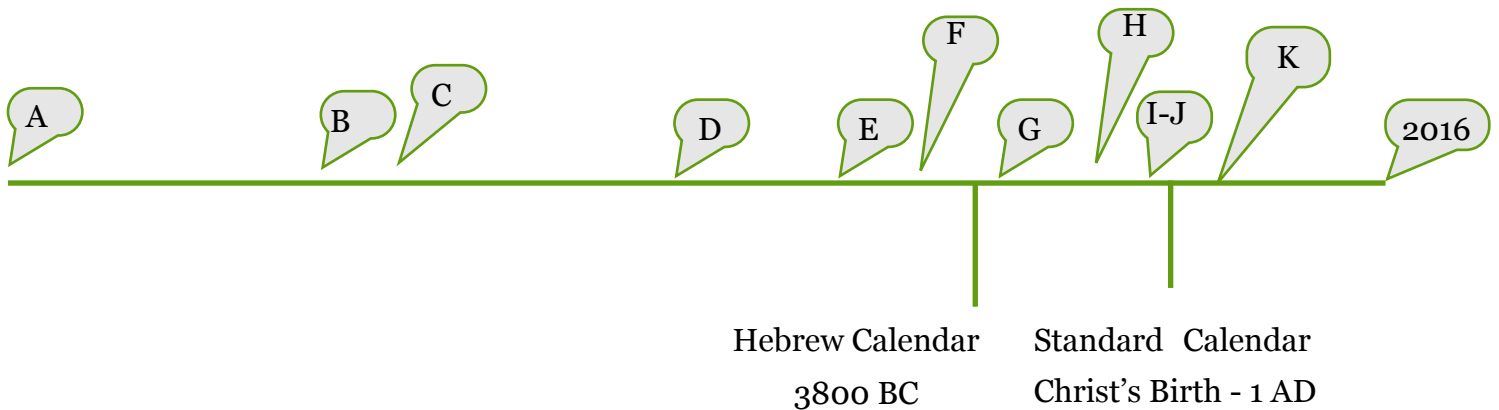

Reframe: Our Divine families were in trouble in the Galactic worlds well before Earth. Indeed, Councils within the Families of Good came together to create a plan, a mission to free us from the Outsiders. The Field of Energy that resulted included Earth as a critical part of the plan. Earth is a planet on which energy slows down from the fast vibrations in which the Outsiders could hide. Because the energy slows into slower frequencies, the sensing systems within the emotional, mental and physical body suites would discern their presence.

Why was manifestation important? So that those Divine Family members in the body suits could identify and name the Outsiders and have them removed back to their Homes of Origin. Removal of the Outsiders would bring sovereignty to our space and restore the Divine Families to our True vibrations of All Good.

Once you understand the history you can make better choices in connecting to a Greater Power for guidance or support. Don't accept ideology, requests, systems of any form that reflect control, domination, usury, voyeurism, violence or discounting of others. Those type of expressions reflect agendas of the Outsiders even if the name “god” is attached.

The use of the term 'patriarchy', in both feminist and sociological analysis, faces problems because of the etymological roots of the term, the form of its connection to political struggles, and the ahistorical fashion in which it is typically employed. There are four principle traditions within which the term is used: as a kinship based system of government; as generalized masculine oppression; as a mechanism in the social reproduction of capitalism; and as a sex-class system. Elements of these traditions are recombined into a quadrupartite scheme for the analysis of masculine gender-systems which distinguishes between 'patriarchy' (rule by male heads of extended families) and 'virarchy' (rule by adult males); and between directly oppressive systems and systems which operate by means of social reproduction.

gods earliest appearance:

<http://www.ancient.eu/religion/>

In ancient times, religion was indistinguishable from what is known as 'mythology' in the present day and consisted of regular rituals based on a belief in higher supernatural entities who created and continued to maintain the world and surrounding cosmos. These entities were anthropomorphic and behaved in ways which mirrored the values of the culture closely (as in Egypt) or sometimes engaged in acts antithetical to those values (as one sees with the gods of Greece). Religion, then and now, concerns itself with the spiritual aspect of the human condition, gods and goddesses (or a single personal god or goddess), the creation of the world, a human being's place in the world, life after death, eternity, and how to escape from suffering in this world or in the next; and every nation has created its own god in its own image and resemblance. The Greek philosopher Xenophanes of Colophon (c. 570-478 BCE) once wrote:

Mortals suppose that the gods are born and have clothes and voices and shapes like their own. But if oxen, horses and lions had hands or could paint with their hands and fashion works as men do, horses would paint horse-like images of gods and oxen oxen-like ones, and each would fashion bodies like their own. The Ethiopians consider the gods flat-nosed and black; the Thracians blue-eyed and red-haired.

Xenophanes believed there was "one god, among gods and men the greatest, not at all like mortals in body or mind" but he was in the minority. Monotheism did not make sense to the ancient people aside from the visionaries and prophets of Judaism. Most people, at least as far as can be discerned from the written and archaeological record, believed in many gods each of whom had a special sphere of influence.

https://www.reddit.com/r/AskHistorians/comments/1two55/whowhat_is_the_earliest_deitygod_known_to_be/

The oldest named deity from a textual source that I know is Inana, a Sumerian goddess of fertility and war. We have a pictographic symbol of her that dates from 3200 BC which would come to be the basis for her cuneiform name during the Jamdet Nasr period.

Mesopotamia

<http://www.ancient.eu/Mesopotamia/>

Men and women both worked, and "because ancient Mesopotamia was fundamentally an agrarian society, the principal occupations were growing crops and raising livestock" (Bertman, 274). Other occupations included those of the scribe, the healer, artisan, weaver, potter, shoemaker, fisherman, teacher, and priest or priestess. The historian Bertman writes:

At the head of society were the kings and priests served by the populous staff of palace and temple. With the institution of standing armies and the spread of imperialism, military officers and professional soldiers took their place in Mesopotamia's expanding and diverse workforce. (274)

Women enjoyed nearly equal rights and could own land, file for divorce, own their own businesses, and make contracts in trade. The early brewers of beer and wine, as well as the healers in the community, were initially women. These trades were later taken over by men, it seems, when it became apparent they were lucrative occupations. The work one did, however, was never considered simply a 'job' but one's contribution to the community and, by extension, to the gods' efforts in keeping the world at peace and in harmony.

Earliest signs of male rule/patriarchy

<http://www.colorado.edu/wrc/2015/02/13/history-patriarchy>

The first signs of patriarchy were the ancient humans of the Neolithic Era, which encompassed from about 10,200 BCE to between 4,500 and 2,000 BCE, who relied on a system where men were the hunters of a tribe and women the gatherers. During this time, the realization occurred that it took a male and female to produce offspring. It is theorized that with this realization, these Neolithic men first became aware in their role in paternity. These same men also began to take private ownership over their individual herds. Prior to this development, the people of the Paleolithic Era had shared both land and supplies. With this new concept of ownership came the desire to have private herds left to the descendants of the owner. Because of this new desire, it became necessary for women to be virgins before marriage and for them to abstain from adultery after marriage so that men could have the reassurance that their offspring were their own (Lerner). With this new control over women began the earliest patriarchal families.

marking time by christ's birth

<https://rcg.org/questions/p104.a.html>

What do the terms B.C. and A.D. mean?

B.C. is an abbreviation for "Before Christ." A.D. is an abbreviation for "anno Domini," which is Latin for "in the year of our Lord."

B.C. and A.D. are commonly used to count years in time. Jesus Christ's birth is used as a starting point to count years that existed before (B.C.) and after (A.D.) Dionysius Exiguus, a monk, invented the B.C./A.D. method during the Middle Ages, early in the sixth century. Commissioned by the pope, he did this to determine the correct date for Easter. His counting method determined Christ's birth to be the year A.D. 1. However, Jesus was actually born a few years earlier, in the year 4 B.C.

It is well established that the sacred calendar, generally known as the Hebrew calendar, began in 3,761 B.C. It is based on 12 and 13-month years and 19-year time cycles, as explained in our booklet The Truth About God's Calendar.

Some chronologists, geologists and anthropologists object to time being anchored to any kind of Christian or religious benchmark. Instead of using the term A.D. they prefer to use the phrase "Common Era," abbreviated "C.E." Likewise, in place of B.C., which refers to the time “Before Christ,” they favor labeling that era “B.C.E.,” meaning “Before the Common Era.” Thus, C.E. is generally equivalent to A.D. and B.C.E. is generally equivalent to B.C.

Feminine statues

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Goddess_movement

The Goddess movement draws some of its inspiration from the work of such archaeologists as Marija Gimbutas,[25][26][27] whose interpretation of artifacts excavated from the region she called "Old Europe" points to societies of Neolithic Europe that were "matristic" or "goddess-centered" worshipping a female deity of three primary aspects inspiring some neopagan worshippers of Triple Goddess.

Heide Göttner-Abendroth, working in the 1970s to mid 1980s and writing originally in German, called these cultures "matriarchies", introducing a feminist field of "Modern Matriarchal Studies". She presented a theory of the transformation of prehistoric cultures in which the local goddess was primary and the male god, if any, derived his power from the goddess. In what she terms the "Downfall", which occurred at varying times in various cultures, the gods overcame the goddesses and made them subservient.[28] This is believed[by whom?] to mirror the gradual suppression of women and the rise of patriarchy.

Göttner-Abendroth's terminology is idiosyncratic. The term "matriarchy" to describe these cultures has been rejected by many Goddess-movement scholars, especially those in North America, because it implies female domination as the reverse of the male domination present in patriarchy. These scholars make the point that such a reversal was not the case; rather these prehistoric cultures were egalitarian and had a social structure that included matrilineality - inheritance of assets and parentage traced through the maternal line.[1][26][29][30][31]

According to Riane Eisler, cultures in which women and men shared power, and which worshipped female deities, were more peaceful than the patriarchal dominator societies that followed. Eisler proposed the terms "dominator" and "androcracy" instead of "patriarchy", and "partnership" and "gylany" (taking the first letters of the prefixes gyne [female] and andro [male] and linking them with an "l") instead of "matriarchy".[30] Others use the terms matrifocal and matrix.[1][13][17] Carol P. Christ writes, "The term matriarchy is not used by scholars who are aware of its controversial history." [32]

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Marija_Gimbutas

Gimbutas gained fame and notoriety in the English-speaking world with her last three English-language books: The Goddesses and Gods of Old Europe (1974); The Language of the Goddess (1989), which inspired an exhibition in Wiesbaden, 1993-4; and the last of the three, The Civilization of the Goddess (1991), which, based on her documented archaeological findings, presented an overview of her conclusions about Neolithic cultures across Europe: housing patterns, social structure, art, religion, and the nature of literacy.

To warilyn in response to Good morning my love!

As you well know, one aspect of my work has been to pay attention to those societies with agendas of control, greed, violence, deceit, usury that I was shown had invaded our Life space way before Earth. And to take back the authority that women were given to identify their energy and demand their removal back to their homes of origin.

They had literally gained ownership over us and we have been in a state of survival and enslavement from those worlds. Until there was sovereignty restored by their removal, all humanity (aspects of the Good) would continue to deteriorate, diminish and die. My most important work was to clear those energies.

Periodically, I evaluate the entire energy fields of the 64 dimensions of our life force in order to see what progress has been made and what is yet to do.

An interesting thing happened with my eval last week. The fields throughout the 64 dimensions, both Galactic worlds and Earth are close to 90% cleared. So, I asked, what is preventing humanity from living as if they were totally free?

My Spiritual team reminded me of the circus elephant story. At one time the trainers would wrap a wire around the leg of a new elephant and then tether it to a peg in the ground. The length of the wire determined the area that the elephant could move. Over time, the elephant learned to stay in that small, limited space. Then, the trainer could take off the wire and simply place a peg in the ground. The elephant, although totally free, did not know and lived life in the limit of the peg.

So, the next major push is to wake humanity up. I think that books such as this one, video, courses, etc. are in that category. You have been leading that mission for a long time, speaking to humanity trapped by the "wire". That "wire" is almost totally gone... watch for the explosion!

Sending love,

What would gender mission look like today?

What has the delayed mission cause?

What happened to crash the mission?

the Neadratal?

The DNA and chakra path for the male and female mission...

Unlocking the Gender Codes. As challenging as the Codes calling us to break free of structures of control, domination and greed, the Codes now being activated may shake us to our core. Will we have the stability of nature's winter time and allow ourselves to go still, go quiet, let go and allow?

When they created plan which included the need for planet on which vibrational patterns could be made discernible. Deception was a big part of the entrapment. Outside societies had used.

By the time Earth was considered the Outsiders owned the families. Those ownership had come from power given away through deception and in lost battles.

The seven families did not own their own space and yet to remain enslaved meant death.

So some volunteered for admission to go to this new planet with the high hopes that sovereignty could be regained. Great courage, love.

And this is where we come to your wounds and our current condition.

We came into two different body suits. Something we had not done before. Two body suits and have you never questioned why?

Oh thats right, for having children procreated for the glory of god.

Except it is not!

Wounds takes ability to think, reason and express good.

Just as important is they wounds!

We speak our word and it is done. We have clear discernment regarding outsider's presence and command their removal.

I speak as Master of Energy.

In order to move forward we have to put all wounds on the table and acknowledge them. Then see the common cause. Only do that with history and gender mission.

Situations occurred with involved families whose agendas were to control and to use.

They tried many ways to extritide and they only became more entrapped. This entrapment count there field of energy to become filled with energy imprints that distr to the and their frequencies began to fall become heavy, It was a process of devolution.

Remember being on an airplane when it enters a field of turbulent air?

The plane shakes passengers gasp and giggle and the flight attendant comes over the intercom to say, "We are going through a bit of turbulence. The pilot has turned on the fasten seat belt sign. The pilots are taking the plane up in atmosphere to see if there is a calmer field." Something like that. We are flying into a planetary turbulence. Uranus, the planet of freedom, sudden insight is pulling the rug out from under you, challenging you to identify old controlling structures.

I know you have the tenacity courage and intelligence to break into new levels of living your life with greater freedom from old fears angers doubts that have. Controlled and limited your life.

Embrace learning new skills exploring new ideas, let go of old dogmas and traditional beliefs. To expand beyond their limits into a world of new possibilities.

I rise above my old fears, doubts and anger, ride the storms inside to learn that there are amazing potentials I had never seen.

What is your Divine Connection?

Review:

Our Divine Families aliveness/awareness exists well before Earth and had experiences in Spiritual, Galactic worlds. In those worlds, because of our naivety, we made alliances with Outside societies whose agendas were to Control or to Use others. Those societies used any means to achieve their goal and that includes deceit, violence, secrecy, and more. Once that invasion had begun, we found ourselves more and more entrapped, unable to live our agenda which was to choose and experience any aspects of All Good.

The plan to get out from under this entrapment included a new planet, Earth.

The mission was very well thought out and some members of the Divine Families volunteered.

It looked something like this.

One Soul would incarnate into a male body suit and carry two contracts, one for “self” and one for “other”. Because of those contracts, this Soul remained under the ownership of the Outsiders. We understood that would be the case.

However, we planned it because the “other” could incarnate into a female body suit and be totally invisible to the Outsiders. This invisibility made it possible for “her” to work in slower energy dimensions of Earth, to design systems, create policy, find places to settle, grow food. It also made it possible for her to have authority and issue commands that the Outsiders would have to obey.

When the first groups of male and female volunteers incarnated into the physical body suits the male design was strongly connected to the Crown chakra and then the Heart chakra. His jobs were to stay positively aligned with the flow of All Good and to use his Heart to discover which female’s design and plans excited his Heart. Then he would bring commitment and nourishment to her and her work.

The female mission was to immediately connect to the Earth Intelligence Chakra and learn her rhythms. Then move to the Base Chakra to look around this new planet and determine what would be needed for this mission force to thrive. From that insight, she would design plans and actions steps.

From the Base, she would open the Creative Chakra and use the Law of Manifestation and power of Personal Free Agency to call this plan into being. All the while she relied on the supportive rhythms of Earth and the Heart nourishment of the male.

Those in female body suits literally “gave life” to the entire mission force. The male was acting as decoy, staying as quiet as possible, letting his Heart choose the female and plans through Love, and strongly nurture. This was not about “multiple and replenish” and so the numbers in physical body suits remained consistent.

This type of living fits very well with what we have learned about the Neanderthals and also hints at the concept of Goddess.

The Ancients Ones tell of a time when the Outsiders discovered that there was an “extra” body on the planet. When this occurred, they re-engineered the body suit. They rewired the systems in both suits. The wiring bypassed the Heart chakra in the male suit and anchored it in the Creative chakra of gonads. They unplugged the wiring from the Solar Plexus, power center of the female, and anchored into the Heart. This left the male without the guidance and strength of this Heart. The change left the female without the discerning system of her belly wisdom that was intended to identify Outsider energy in order to remove them to their Original Home.

This corresponds with the introduction of the Cro-Magnon body and lack of evidence that it “evolved” from the Neanderthal.

Next, the Outsiders totally replaced the blue print of the physical body suit with one of their own. This body suit had 2 stands of DNA that activated the Base and the Sexual/Creative. Those were the only centers needed for the slave planet they visioned. They also decreed “multiply and replenish”, female obey male, male is in “my image”, “women can no longer create effortlessly”, female sinned when they learned to discern that Good AND Evil existed on this planet, etc. The Garden of Eden myth corresponds with this bushwhacking of our Divine plan and mission.

We live in unlimited fields of Energy. Energy contains information, all types of information. When we consider what we connect to as our Source, our Higher Power, God, Goddess, etc. we are speaking of aspects within this unlimited field of unseen energy. Each aspect carries unique information, intelligence, qualities, values, and agendas. To open to that vast field without clarifying the type of information you would find valuable is like walking into the most dangerous area of town loaded with all of your valuables and saying, "Who wants to tell me what I ought to do with all the valuables I have accumulated?"

So, when you are looking for a Divine Connection, take this history into account.

In the Beginning that has No Beginning, those on Earth Mission, including you, are aspects/consciousnesses/intelligences of All Good, and Inclusive Presence. That is about as far “upstream” as we can imagine.

From our 3-D physical end of the energy flow we often feel alone, disconnected, powerless, empty and in that emptiness, we attach ourselves to something Bigger than ourselves. That is neither good nor bad. Just be aware and conscious as to where you choose to connect. Don't act in “reject of” or “oblivious to the mix” within the concepts of Divine, Source, God, Goddess.

• Without distinguishing, the word ‘god’, ‘goddess’, ‘Source’ is a mixture of the values which includes the qualities of the Outsider agenda of Control and Greed and the values and qualities of the Outsider agenda of Usury and Deceit and the values and qualities of our Divine Families of Good

The steps to take:

1. Distinguish the qualities and values you require of your Spiritual teachers and guides to Greater.
2. Own your Greater Self and mission.

A very powerful way to do these two things is to write Reality Statements:

- The qualities and values of my Spiritual teachers and guides to Greater are _____ .
- I am an aspect of in community of All Good.
- I have a Divine Mission.
- I understand and use the Laws of Manifestation and Personal Authority to align to my Spiritual family in Being My Soul’s Truth.
- I take back my Life Force and move from all Survival systems and connect into communities of Sovereignty and Divine Good.

Use the Statements for each new choice within Reality Shift Process and Brain Balance.

Let's see where the application of this takes you!

Blessings,

Sharon Riegie-

After Completion, What?

The Desert

I have spent the last 6 months sharing some pretty complicated information with you. Thanks for staying with me! I have included a link above to a YouTube video in which Erik, a young man who died early, is sharing information through various friends and his mom. This particular video is his idea of “god” from his place after life and sounds like something I would agree with.

It feels like I have come to the end of some large task. Completion. Have you felt that way over the course of your life? On one hand you can breath a sigh of relief. On the other hand, there is a bit of unease, what is next?

Yup, that is where I am. Lots completed and yet there is another day in which I wake up with all of the hours before me. Lots of papers yet to write, lots of walks yet to take, lots of friends yet to met, and lots of weeds yet to pull. You know what that is like?

I am very fortunate in that I look out of my windows and am surrounded by the beauty of an island in the Pacific Northwest, In 5 minutes I am walking the beach, 10 minutes I am hiking the forest, 30 minutes I am walking the pier or I can just sit in one of my chairs outside my home and watch the birds do their dances. In fact, right now, the hummingbirds are flitting in front of my office window to tell me that their food is near empty!

I could dig around and come up with an idea to share, a challenge, an opportunity, a concept to think about.

But, that is not where I am right now. I am in more of a desert place. A place of letting the “heat” burn away what is done. To trust that even though the landscape of “desert” looks like there is nothing, there is so much waiting to emerge if I just be still. Then I wonder, what did I hide away years ago because I thought the world was not safe, that I would not be heard, that in being small I could fit into this world? Is all that I left behind hidden under the sand dunes? Is the greatest vibrancy waiting for me in the waters of the oasis? Like never before, the “desert” feels that the place to be, even amongst the lush green of my island.

I am being still, dropping what is complete, and letting the heat and oasis of “desert” do the magic.

I'll meet you on the other side!

There were plans made within our Divine families and Earth fit the criteria for our next “home”. We had high hopes of removing the cause of our slip into the entrapping agendas of domination and greed. We were highly intelligent and creative. Having experienced invasion, deceit, violence, injury, we knew to plan for the worst even as we hoped and planned for the best. The best being our evolution from the fallen, dense energy state the outsider’s energy constructs that taken us.

We hoped to remember our purpose of Good, and identify and remove all that was not bringing Good. It seemed a simple task. It has not been. We are even more entrapped.

And so the Ancient Ones are revealing the plans they made for the possibility of this time, if the Future Ones were on the edge of falling into destruction.

You undoubtedly know of the pyramids and structures such as Stonehenge. They are all over the planet, some are visible, some under ground, some under water, many undiscovered. What little we have known about their commonality, they are aligned to nature, sun, planets, constellations. That is the tip of the iceberg as to their purpose and power. We have thought they were for the Ancients. No, they are for us Futures! For this time of great worry, sorrow and fear.

The codes that are within their position will send waves of energy radiating from each point, between each striation, filling our space, weaving a vibrational field that impregnates the very air within which we live.

This immersion caused from the activation of the Codes.

They are to cause awareness of that deceit, greed, domination exists. Not an easy pill for those who have been like ostriches to swallow. Also to awaken our deep inner remembrance of Divine nature of Good as primary. Also not easy. To radiate and dissolve false forms, to offer support for wellness, balance, truth tellers, and cause deep change.

The codes were active with a simple drawing and seen by one committed to identifying Higher Frequencies of Love/Good.
